RESOLUTION

Chinese-Made Huawei equipment atop cell towers near U.S. Military bases and critical infrastructure in the Midwest poses a threat to National Security. This technology has the capacity to capture and disrupt restricted Department of Defense Communications.

SECTION 2.

Whereas, the Chinese government has installed Chinese-made equipment atop cell towers in close proximity to the U.S. Military assets in the rural Midwest;

Whereas, this action by the Chinese raises significant concerns regarding potential national security threats, surveillance, and unauthorized access to sensitive military information;

Whereas, the Chinese Communist Party's involvement in such actions poses a risk to the United States and its interests;

Whereas, addressing this issue as a federal matter is crucial in safeguarding national security and protecting the integrity of the U.S. Military;

Whereas, counterintelligence efforts and the expertise of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) are vital in mitigating potential risks and ensuring the proper function of communication networks;

Whereas, securing funding for these endeavors is essential to effectively address this threat;

Resolved, That the Senate -

(1) condemns the Chinese government's placement of Chinese-made equipment atop cell towers in close proximity to U.S. Military assets in the rural Midwest.

(2) expresses its firm stance against the Chinese Communist Party's involvement in regards to the actions related to the Chinese equipment atop the cell towers.

(3) recognizes the importance of addressing this matter as a federal issue and commits to taking appropriate actions to safeguard national security.

(4) calls upon the U.S. Counterintelligence agencies and the FCC to collaborate closely to investigate, analyze, and mitigate potential risks posed by the Chinese-made equipment.

(5) authorizes the allocation of federal funds to support counterintelligence efforts and the FCC in addressing the issue outlined in this resolution.
